

MISSION, FUNCTIONS, AND TASKS OF THE NON-MILITARY COMPONENT IN THE COLLECTIVE DEFENSE

Major Dimo Ginev

Abstract: Using the analysis of the national defence system, the report outlines its elements. The centre of gravity of the research has focused on one of these elements - the non-military component. In the report has been defined the mission of the civilian component as regard its participating in the collective defence, also has been presented its functions and basic tasks during defence of the country. Based on the activities specialization, has been created prerequisites for the division and concretizing of the tasks in three categories: tasks in the interest of collective defence; tasks in the interest of specific operations, combined with the armed forces; and tasks performed in the communications area. The results of those analyses could be used for building up a catalogue of non-military ensuing tasks for its preparation for participation in the national defence.

Key words: national defence system, non-military component, mission, functions, tasks.