

GOOD PRACTICES IN SOCIAL POLICY PUT INTO EUROPEAN ARMED FORCES

Lieutenant colonel Plamen Petkov, PhD

Abstract: The scientific article analyzes measures and conditions of military-social policy of some European countries. The author considers such steps as elaboration of financial and economic aspects of military-social policy; working out of new mechanisms, forms, and methods of management of socio-economic processes in the military; provision of efficient measures on real improvement of living standards and life quality of service members. The conclusion is made that European experience should be used in the form of certain measures of military-social policy reform.

Key words: modern armed forces, army, social policy.