

PRINCIPLES OF SPECIAL TACTICS IN HIGH-RISK POLICE OPERATIONS

Marin Grigorov

Abstract: Developing skills to fight crime is not just a priority for practitioners today. The accelerated pace of social change and technical progress require the application of a broad and in- depth analysis by scientific institutions. However, their activities should not be self-serving and self- sufficient, but should lead to a direct and relatively fast algorithm of action to help police officers on the street. Part of this “algorithm” is the formation of adequate behavior in high-risk situations, following uniform principles.

Key words: special tactics, principles, priority of threats