

NAVY AVIATION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, 1918-1932

Nikolay Mishkovski

Abstract: Between the two world wars, the United States Navy underwent significant changes under the influence of a number of factors, some of which were the result of the development of new technologies at the time. Among them, the main ones are those related to military aviation. With the advent of aircraft and aircraft carriers, not only the basic characteristics of the US Navy have changed, but also the navy as a whole.

Key words: US navy, navy aviation, aircraft, carrier, department, bureau of aeronautics.
